Facts about Swedbank and Sweden

Swedbank has its roots in the Swedish savings bank movement, which dates back to 1820 and is today one of the most profitable and stable banks in the world.

By the end of 2012, the bank had a stock value of 24.9 Billion SEK (3.9 Billion USD) and was worth 139 Billion SEK (21.6 Billion USD). The annual profitability was 14.4% and the bank made a profit of 14.4 Billion SEK (2.24 Billion USD) for 2012.

FUNTAStIQ AB has chosen put its trust in doing business with Swedbank for many reasons; also for the good private relations our company has with bank employees and the swift expeditor that this means when we need to utilize their services.

The Swedish currency is called Krona or Crown. Its trade name is SEK. One USD is today 6.42 SEK and one EURO is 8.47 SEK. The one krona coin depicts our current King – Carl Gustav XVI.

Sweden is by news media like CNN, CNBC, Bloomberg and others called “the new Swiss” and the Swedish Krona is considered the new safe haven in the world of currencies, and is called the new “Swissie” (Swiss Franc, CHF).

Investing in FUNTAStIQ AB represents many safe havens; you invest in a company with solid business fundamentals, in the 2nd richest country in the world, with the most stable currency of the world. When you take a chance – play to win.
